WordPress Plugin Crash Test Dummy

A Month of WordPress Plugins – 2007

Ask and You May Change WordPress

Wanted: WordPress Plugins for Me

A lot of people are overwhelmed with the number and variety of WordPress Plugins available. Many admit that they would like to write a WordPress Plugin, but there already is at least two WordPress Plugins to do just about anything you want on your blog.

That's not true. There are still plenty of needs out there for WordPress Plugins that haven't been written.

While working on this month long series on WordPress Plugins, I came up with some ideas for WordPress Plugins I want that I didn't find. And if I want them, the odds are that there are at least two other people out there who would want these, too.

Instant Reply Comment WordPress Plugin: As I have so vocally expressed, I'm terribly unhappy with the way comments are handled in the WordPress Administration Panels. If the WordPress developers won't fix it, someone has to come up with a WordPress Plugin to make right what should be better. I want a WordPress Plugin that allows me to comment without viewing the post. I want a Plugin that allows responding to blog comments from the Comments Administration Panel. Why should I click on the link to the post, wait for the post page to load, then scroll down past the article to the comment form to leave a comment? And then have to click back through two or three pages to get back to the next comment in the comment queue and repeat the process again? Give me a Plugin that allows commenting right at the point where I manage comments.

Post Preview Button Restored WordPress Plugin: It's simple but I want the damn Post Preview link back in all WordPress versions. I HATE scrolling down to see the preview of my post after I've hit Save and Continue Editing. I have to scroll past the PodPress box and Image management box and the custom fields, excerpts, and, and, and...just get me to the post on time. Many people

The following is a demonstration post for the PDX WordPress Meetup Plugin Ignite Presentation. I will be demonstrating the File Gallery WordPress Plugin. The Pandorica Opens

You know how I sometimes have really brilliant ideas? You hate me; you want to kill me! Well, go on! Kill me! KILL ME! It's art! A statement on modern society, 'Oh Ain't Modern Society Awful?'! I'm nobody's taxi service; I'm not gonna be there to catch you every time you feel like jumping out of a spaceship. Did I mention we have comfy chairs? It's a fez. I wear a fez now. Fezes are cool.

World War Three

Saving the world with meals on wheels. You hit me with a cricket bat. Heh-haa! Super squeaky bum time!
